

- 1989 -

Rethink

democratic future

Rethinking the Democratic Future: Lessons from the 20th Century

The conference is organized in the framework of Europe for Citizen funded project that aims to reflect on the state of democracy in the region of Central and Eastern Europe in the context of 1989 revolutions and is implemented in partnership between Open Lithuania Foundation, Res Publica Foundation and Jan Nowak-Jezioranski College of Eastern Europe.

April 26 // 4.00 PM CET / 10.00 AM ET

A place for ideology in post-1989 world?

A dialogue between Jeffrey Goldfarb and Nadia Urbinati

April 27 // 3.00 PM CET / 9.00 AM ET

A conversation with young people: the legacy of 1989 and political activism today

A round table of post-1989 generation co-hosted by European Humanities University

April 27 // 6.00 PM CET / 12.00 PM ET

Media and civil society renewal in CEE

A discussion on democratic challenges faced by media and civil society co-hosted by Visegrad Insight

April 28 // 4.00 PM CET / 10.00 AM ET

Transition memory. Challenges of teaching transition at school

An event on memory of the 90s through the lens of education hosted by Open Lithuania Foundation

April 28 // 6.00 PM CET / 12.00 PM ET

30 years on...The legacy of the post-Soviet transformation and the future of democracy

Perspectives on transition from the wider Europe co-hosted by New Eastern Europe